CONTINUE SEARCH FOR CIA CLERK CPYRGHT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Authorities continued their search today for an intelligence agency clerk who has been missing since Tuesday.

Military intelligence agents and police had no leads on the whereabouts of William Hyter Covington, an employee of the super-secret National Security Agency (NSA).

Covington worked for the same group that employed Bernon F. Maclean and William B. Martin, who defected to Russia last year. Officials said he had only limited access to classified material.
